Expansion continues

TSH opened its first hotel in Germany in 2018. TSH Dresden opened its doors in November and will be followed by TSH Berlin in September 2019.

In 2020 openings include Vienna, Bologna and Delft. Madrid, San Sebastian, Barcelona, Paris, Toulouse, Carcavelos Lisbon, Porto, Rome, Florence Belfiore and Florence Manifattura Tabacchi will open in 2021.

TSH Florence Lavagnini was transformed from a historic Florentine palazzo with a €50 million investment to create 390 rooms available to guests who can stay from one night to one year. 50% of rooms are for Italian and international students, 45% are hotel rooms and the remaining 5% are reserved for short stays.

TSH Collab: co-working

TSH Florence Lavagnini features Collab co-working space as part of its innovative hospitality model that combines sophisticated design and a wide range of services. TSH Collab provides flexible or fixed desks, as well as self-contained offices in which entrepreneurs, freelancers or companies can operate. TSH Collab members can use the gym and swimming pool as well as other facilities at every TSH property around Europe. TSH Collab rates start from from € 99 per month including VAT.

Tailor made design, eclectic look

The company TSH created an original concept, a single interior design project used for all the hotels, which is slightly modified in each structure because it's adapted to the location. TSH worked with Archea Associati (<http://www.archea.it/>) of Florence for the artistic direction of the restoration of the historic "Palazzo del sonno" in Viale Lavagnini. The main objective was to integrate a contemporary design into a nineteenth-century building by Giuseppe Poggi. The technical and engineering part was handled by A & I Engineering and Esa Ingegneria studio. Interiors were directed by TSH's own inhouse design team along with Rizoma Studio in Bologna.

Included in the 20,000 square metre hotel there is an internal courtyard with oversize works of art and graffiti by young and well-known creatives. Free Wi-Fi, raised areas with seating and outdoor furniture characterize this space, providing areas to study, relax and have a coffee.
